Exeter, Dec. 8. Ernest Grunwald, who has been employed at Jenkins' grain store for some time, has been transferred to Boston by Mr. Jenkins and is employed in an automobile shop. Mr. Grunwald was very popular here and will be missed very much.

A three-day sale beginning Tuesday, the 9th, will be conducted by the Arts and Crafts Society at their rooms in the Woods block. Many useful and interesting articles that are of practical use in everyday life will be offered for sale.

The members of the class of 1911 at the high school have slightly altered their plans for the dance which was intended to be held in the town hall on Friday night. They will instead conduct the affair at Unity Hall on Saturday evening.

Manager Hartford of Music Hall, Portsmouth, has arranged to have a special car run here on Wednesday night for the benefit of Exeter players who wish to see Robert Edison in "The Call of the North." The car leaves Exeter for Portsmouth at 6:45. "The Call of the North" is one of the most powerful of modern plays and no one should miss such an excellent opportunity to see it.

Several members of the local commandery of Knights Templar visited the Portsmouth order last night and returned on the late car.

Track practice was suspended on Monday afternoon owing to the heavy rain. Outdoor work was indulged in.

The heaviest rainfall in a year was recorded here on Monday which, considering the time of year and its fierceness, is believed to be without parallel in recent years. A heavy gale swept the town during the earlier part of the day which, considering its velocity, did very little damage. Many people journeyed to Hampton Beach to see the surf which was the greatest in years. Cars were run to the beach every hour.

Monday night's meeting of the Renaissance Club, held with Dr. Hall, was of exceptional interest. Prof. Ford read an excellent paper on "Hugo." A large number were in attendance.

As a result of the gale there were on Monday occasional interruptions of electric power owing to mishaps to high tension wires.

A great improvement is the installation of powerful electric lights at the front corners of the academy building. The installation of a system of lights for the yard is a probability for the near future.

The First Parish and the Thursday Club meet next Thursday afternoon, respectively, at the First and Phillips churches, and Exeter branch of the National Alliance will meet with Mrs. James M. Tufes. In the evening there is the annual Christmas supper at the Baptist vestries.

From present appearances the Swamscot river will continue to remain free from ice for a longer period as the sudden change in the weather conditions has freed all of the thin ice formed on the shores. Saturday the coal barge Merrill arrived with a cargo and the captain stated that the trip was nearly the limit for late navigation. It will require many zero mornings to block navigation at present.

The weekly drill of the militia was held in the town hall last evening. An unusually large number were present and the drill was one of the best conducted in many weeks.

Badly Injured

Duncan McDonald of Chase street employed in the Boston and Maine R. R. coal shed at the Creek, was badly injured on Monday evening while at work loading the tender on an engine.

He was walking out on the staging in the shed when he missed his footing and fell a distance of twenty feet, striking on his head and shoulder. He was rendered unconscious, but recovered in a short time and complaining of his shoulder.

He was removed to his home on Chase street in a hack and a physician called. He is thought to have dislocated his shoulder.

TO MOVE YORK
COUNTY SEATSaco Chooses Committee to See LegislatureKeenebunk and Sanford Trying To Get It Away from Alfred
To Themselves

Saco, Me., Dec. 8. A rousing meeting of the Saco board of trade was held last night to take action on the removal of the county seat of York county. Speeches were made by Luther R. Moore, representative-elect to the legislature, Hon. James O. Bradbury, Walter J. Gilpatrick, W. G. Gerrish, collector of customs, W. W. McIntyre, Mayor Harry A. Westmouth and others.

A committee of nine was appointed to take up the matter and make arrangements to press the claims of Saco before the legislature. The committee consists of Dr. J. D. Cochran, Frank L. Palmer, Dr. C. D. Thompson, Hon. James O. Bradbury, James B. Dow, Frank L. Emery, Walter J. Gilpatrick, W. L. Gerrish and Harold L. Emmons.

Mr. Bradbury offered his services to the city in appearing before any legislative committee and in doing whatever else he could do at Augusta free of charge. He said that Saco is the easiest place to reach for all the inhabitants of York county or any town in the county and should beyond question be granted the county seat. Herbert L. Jordan, one of Saco's wealthiest men said that if the claim was presented to the legislature at the proper time Saco would make an offer to the county as to a site and other substantial aid in building about the erection of suitable public buildings.

Luther R. Moore said that a special act would be necessary granting to the people of York county the right to vote upon the question of removal.

Alfred is making an effort to retain the county seat. Sanford and Keenebunk want it and Mr. Bradbury said that a former in Parsonsfield had offered a lot for a court house if the court house was removed to that town. The Parsonsfield offer, however, cannot be regarded except as a joke.

The Saco people are talking of the Woodman lot for a site for the proposed county court house.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' SALE
Successful Event at the Chapel of the Baptist Church

The annual Christmas sale of the King's Daughters connected with the Middle street Baptist church was held on Monday afternoon and evening and it was as usual a big success. There was a large attendance at the sale and supper and everything was disposed of.

The sale was confined to three tables which were handsomely decorated and loaded with a splendid display of goods.

The apron table was in charge of Mrs. A. C. Welch, who was assisted by Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Fred Day, Mrs. Arthur Freeman and Mrs. C. E. Hodgdon.

The headpiece table was in charge of Mrs. Fred Gardner, assisted by Miss Fannie Shannon, Mrs. Esther Jones, Mrs. W. P. Stanley and Miss Adelle Stevens.

The candy table was under the supervision of Mrs. Amos Locke, Mrs. Arthur Horton, Mrs. Charles Chesley, Miss Maud McNeal, Miss Elsie Wright and Miss Leah Walsh.

At six o'clock supper was served to about 150 and the menu consisted of lobster salad, cold ham, baked beans, mashed potatoes, rolls, apple pie, squash, brown, blueberry and Washburn's cereal and coffee.

Tickets were received from the friends of Mrs. Frank H. West, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Shannon, Mrs. Emmons Garland, Mrs. Arthur Smith. The waitresses were, Mrs. Fred Link, Mrs. Harriet Wiley, Mrs. Harriet Trafton, Mrs. Fred Sullivan, Mrs. Albert Marshall, Mrs. J. G. Harbison, Mrs. C. S. Bryant and Mrs. Bert Grant.

The chairman of the entire affair was Mrs. C. M. Akerman.

Making Good Makes Friends

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that came into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

SWINDLED MILLIONS OUT OF ROMAN CATHOLICS

New York, Dec. 8.—Several hundred stockholders and creditors of the Fidelity Funding Company, most of them priests and nuns, are gathered by the absence from New York of P. J. Keenan, president of the company, who has been prominent in Roman Catholic church circles for some time.

The company, whose business was financing the building of churches and Catholic institutions, went into the hands of a receiver a few weeks ago. Since then Keenan has not been at his office.

Thomas H. Gilroy, Jr., who was appointed receiver, said that the liabilities of the company were between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, while all the assets he can find amount to but little more than $500,000. He added that he had not seen Keenan since Oct. 20, but had heard of his being in Chicago, Baltimore and other cities.

Mr. Gilroy has received anxious inquiries from priests and nuns in Pennsylvania, Iowa, Missouri, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Washington and even Canada, who wish to know about their money and bonds that represent millions.

Leah M. Shaw, former secretary of the company and at one time head of the Carnegie Trust Company, told Keenan have $50,000. Counsel for the Mutual Bank of Chicago and the Euclid Avenue Banking and Trust Company of Cleveland are also on the anxious seat.

The latter institution, which is the day and night bank of Cleveland, is in the hands of a receiver, partly as a result of its part of a deal with Keenan, and the Mutual Bank is suing the Cleveland bank for free value of some notes that were issued when the capital of the latter was increased from $200,000 to $750,000, as Keenan advised.

"I have already found two notes," said Receiver Gilroy, "that were given to the company by the Mary's Academy in 1895, one for $2,000 and the other for $255,000. They were signed by the mother superior and treasurer. There are $10,000 more to be accounted against this institution. Other notes were placed in the hands of Keenan's hands to be filed out and entered at his discretion. The company is of the kind only in name and is a mere shell." There are thousands of other similar cases, only smaller, according to the receiver.

by the Rain of Monday

Eliot, Me., Dec. 8. Monday's rain put out the small woods fire in the past of Charles A. Smith's home stand. The fire was in the bushes where a steam sawmill had been and it destroyed some half a hundred cords of fuel wood and a few stumps and part of sawed lumber.

Charles A. Smith found a deer lying dead in his pasture. The animal had been shot and got away from the hunter.

Victor O. Jenkins is going to build himself a small motor boat. He has ordered the only frame and other material.

Charles E. Frost will start his story, "Growth in a few days." It is to tell of his own residence in a little north of Rosemary.

No damage is reported from the storm of Monday except a few limbs broken from trees.

There is to be a sale and entertainment at the Congregational church on Thursday. The sale will be in the vestry, with five classes, books, money, dolls, mysteries and confessions. The entertainment at half-past seven o'clock will be in charge of Dr. H. L. Threlkeld, Mr. Cheney, committee and other talent will take part.

FORESTERS OF AMERICA HAVE BIG EVENING

Business, Degree Work, Social and a Good Supper

Court Rockingham, Foresters of America, had only standing room at the headquarters on Market street on Monday night.

It was the occasion of a social and degree work, besides a lot of their business, which made it a busy evening for the local court.

The social end of the evening program was enjoyable and successful from beginning to end and furnished much pleasure to the large gathering.

At half past ten a fine treat was served by the variety of chefs that has made the organization famous. The committee in charge was George P. Scott, Timothy Comors, John Leary, Timothy Foley, Leo Shea, Oliver Mooney, W. Hurley and William Cogau.

NAVY YARDS HERE AND AWAY

Surveying Ranger at Charlestown

The U. S. S. Ranger, which recently returned from the Philippines, will be examined by members of the general naval board of inspection and survey, assisted by the Charlestown survey board. The inspection by the general board is required on all ships returning from foreign waters which have not been surveyed in a period of three years. The Ranger will go out of commission at the Charlestown yard as soon as possible after the survey is completed. After some minor repairs she will be turned over to the state of Massachusetts to replace the U. S. S. Enterprise as the Massachusetts' anti-air training ship. The Enterprise will probably be sent back to the navy list and sold for junk next summer, as her usefulness is ended. Commander Bush, who brought the Ranger home, will be given a month's leave of absence and will then become the ordinary inspector of the local yard and the new Hampshire magazine.

Another Navy Yard Wanted Says the Washington Star.

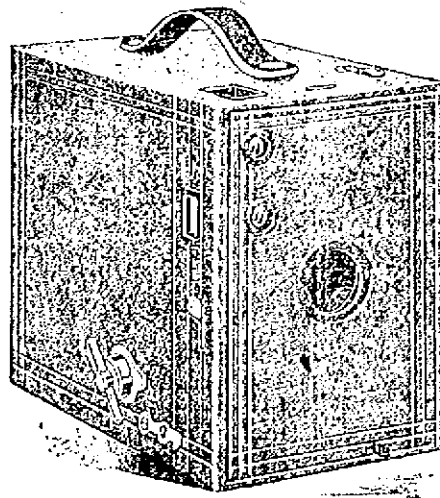

One of the most important matters pending in the navy department is the establishment of a new navy yard on the golf course.

This is in anticipation of the completion of the Panama canal, and it is a question whether the naval base and dock yard, to be one of the largest in the country, will be formed by the enlargement of one of the existing naval stations or the creation of a new yard. Naval view does not favor the location at New Orleans.

Some naval officers believe that a great yard at Pensacola or Key West, Fla., would be economical and efficient. If the choice is between the two, probably the selection will be Key West, which has deep water.

Some officers favor the development of the station at Guantanamo, Cuba, as being best situated for strategic purposes. The question is an important one in many ways, and it is necessary to consider a large number of conditions and to operate also in connection with the war department in the matter of adequate defense.

The project will be presented to the consideration of Congress.

Why Wasn't This Done Here?

Although Portsmouth navy yard has been assigned as the home port for the battleship New Hampshire, and it was announced that all repairs on her should hereafter be made at this yard, yet the New York and Washington papers state that she is under repairs at Brooklyn yard to the extent of being painted the new slate gray color.

Tom Enjoying Himself

Thomas Lynch, involved in construction and repair, is enjoying his annual vacation and passing a few days in Massachusetts cities.

On a Sick Furlough

Daniel Casey of the construction and repair department is away from duty owing to sickness.

The New Foundry

One of the most important items included in the list sent to Congress is the appropriation necessary for the starting of a new foundry for the department at steam engineering.

This branch of the work is delivered under a handicap, when the big work is needed but up to date machinery is not available. During the stay at Charlestown John R. Edwards at the head of the department has been constantly trying to secure the equipment with the result of good headway.

The matter is now in the hands of Capt. Zane, his successor, who has kept the ball rolling and added much to the work accomplished by Capt. Edwards. Admittedly, the chief of the bureau of steam engineering at Washington, states that the navy is in need of a big and big work to provide for that most in good shape.

More Battleships Coming

A letter to the Herald from a most reliable source states that three battleships will be sent here for an overhauling in March.

Admiral Moore has been requested to make plans for taking in that number in connection with several smaller craft.

Coming Back Again

Chapman Curtis H. Dickens of the U. S. S. Tennessee is expected to be ordered to duty at this yard within the next two months.

Send Her Here

It is rumored that the U. S. S. Dakota, recently launched at the Fore River shipbuilding plant, may not go in the dry dock at Boston and may possibly come to Portsmouth.

This Looks Bad

The department has reconsidered its plan of dismissing between 200 and 300 employees at the Washington navy yard about the first of January and will endeavor to maintain the present force of operatives at least until April 1 next.

QUINN'S RESIGNATION

It Is Accepted by Police Commissioners at a Special Meeting

The resignation of Policeman Charles Quinn, which was exclusively announced in yesterday's Herald, was accepted at a special meeting of the police commissioners last evening.

Mr. Quinn requests the Herald to publish the following copy of his letter:

To the Board of Police Commissioners:

Gentlemen: It was my intention to tender to this board my resignation as a police officer, night watchman and constable on March 15, 1909, but the city marshal, whom I have served under for thirteen years, has seen fit to transfer me to night duty at this time, when my term as a day officer did not end until April 1, 1909, which shows plainly that in the future I am not going to have justice at his hands, so I now take pleasure in handing you my resignation to take place at once.

Yours,

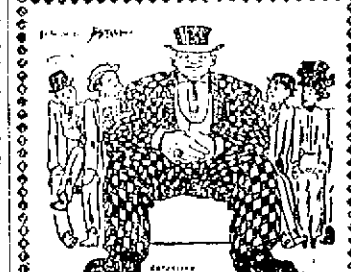

CHARLES QUINN.
